Investment Objective

The fund aims to protect capital by investing in bonds and offering a higher return than a euro money market investment. The recommended investment horizon is short term.
The great majority of investments are in euro-denominated issues. Ancillary investments may be made in currencies other than the euro, provided the exchange risk is hedged.
In practice, the fund manager concentrates the investments in euro-denominated bonds from high quality issuers. His preference is for issues designed to finance projects with proven benefits in terms of sustainable development (impact bonds).
A minimum of 30% of the fund's assets will be invested in sustainable assets.

Key Facts

- Focus on the sustainable development objectives of the selected impact bonds;
- Portfolio composed mainly of quality bonds denominated in euros;
- Investments in issuers with stable or improving credit quality;
- Added value through active management of duration, including the use of futures;
- Particular attention paid to reducing downside risk.

In the first quarter of 2025, the eurozone sovereign debt market experienced significant volatility. The yields on 10-year German government bonds jumped from 2.37% at the end of 2024 to around 2.74% at the end of March, an increase of almost 40 basis points over the period. French 10-year government bonds followed a similar trajectory, rising from 3.19% to 3.45%, reducing the gap with Bunds to around 71 basis points compared with 82 basis points at the start of the year.

This situation has come about due to major events in Germany. The February 2025 elections saw the victory of the CDU/CSU (28.6%), followed by the shock announcement from Friedrich Merz, the future chancellor, of an ambitious fiscal plan: a fund of 500 billion euros over 10 years for infrastructure and a reform of the 'debt brake'. These measures, aimed at reviving the economy and strengthening defence, have created upheaval on the bond market ahead of an increased supply of German debt and higher yields.

On the macroeconomic front, the eurozone's growth is sluggish (+0.2% annualised in the fourth quarter of 2024), while Germany saw its GDP decline in the fourth quarter of 2024 (-0.2%). Inflation, at 2.3% in both the eurozone and Germany, remains under surveillance, influencing the ECB's room for manoeuvre and causing it to limit its interest rate cuts. German unemployment, at 6.3% in March, is a sign of an economic slowdown. The Trump Administration's tariff policy is likely to hamper the eurozone's growth. In this context, we are maintaining a modified duration relatively close to that of the markets.
